Licensing Overview

What Licensing Is

Steel Security uses a licensing system to enable Pro features and manage usage across sites.

A valid license key is required to activate Pro functionality.

Free vs Pro

Steel Security is available in two versions:

Free Version

- includes core scanning functionality
 - provides basic hardening features
 - does not require a license

Pro Version

- includes advanced hardening controls
 - provides additional protections and features
 - requires an active license key

When a License Is Required

A license is only required if you are using the Pro version of Steel Security.

If you are using the free version, no activation is needed.

How Licensing Works

Licensing is handled through your Steel Security account.

When you activate a license:

- your site connects to the Steel Security licensing system
- your license is validated
- Pro features are enabled

Each license may have limits on how many sites it can be used on.

Where Licenses Are Managed

Licenses are managed through your account portal:

- view your active licenses
 - see which sites are using each license
 - manage activations

What to Do Next

- if you are using the Pro version, activate your license
 - if you are using the free version, no action is required
